“These are the best places to get ice cream in Michigan”

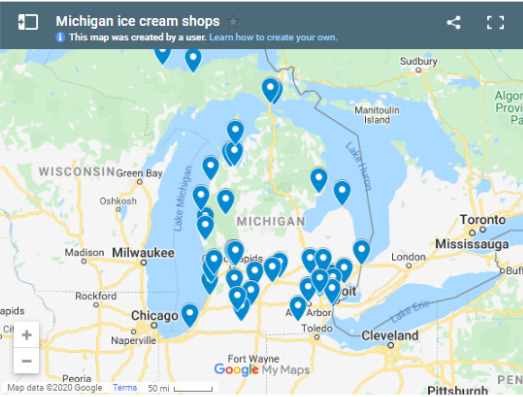

By Detroit Free Press

(no <meta name=keywords> tag)

Pictures for some but not all. Includes map. Includes Yelp and Google review scores.

With nearly 1,600 dairy farms in the state, you're bound to find some great ice cream in both the Lower and Upper Peninsulas.

We compiled a list of some of the best ice cream spots based on Yelp, TripAdvisor and Google reviews and ratings. We also looked at what food experts had to say.

Some of the places on this list make their own ice cream and others serve Michigan-made brands. For some reviewers it wasn't just about the taste and consistency of the ice cream, but also the flavor options and presentation.

Here are the favorites:

Apple Knockers Ice Cream Parlor
 115 W. Prairie St., Vicksburg
 A friendly staff serves up a large selection of ice cream flavors and desserts.
Ratings: Yelp: 5.0, TripAdvisor: 5.0, Google: 4.7

Arcadia Ice House
 17073 Northwood Highway, Arcadia
 An old fashioned ice cream shop with tons of unique flavors and large servings in homemade waffle cones. One TripAdvisor user called it a hidden gem.
Ratings: Yelp: 5.0, TripAdvisor: 5.0, Google: 4.8

Atrium Cafe & Ice Cream Parlour
 1519 Military St., Port Huron
 Generous servings of high quality ice cream.
Ratings: Yelp: 4.5, TripAdvisor: 4.5, Google: 4.7

I like the map and the Yelp/TripAdvisor/Google reviews. My rank: 1 of 5.

“Michigan's Best Ice Cream Parlor: Our Top 10 and a few surprises!”

(no <meta name=keywords> tag)

Lengthy list. A paragraph about each one. Small pictures. Very ad heavy. Links.

Ludington.

Everyone loves House of Flavors in

5. House of Flavors, Ludington: The line was out the door on the night we arrived, the last stop of Day 1. We were greeted by Patricia Ezdebski who was there on an outing with a church youth group from Emmanuel Lutheran Church. They usually stop at House of Flavors on Tuesdays, but they wanted to meet us and share their feelings for House of Flavors. I asked them their favorite flavors, and I was bombarded by "all of them." House of Flavors has a lot of history, dating back to 1948 when Bob Neal Sr. moved his family to Ludington and purchased 50 percent of Miller Dairy. Today the Neal family still runs the operation, and the historic photos still decorate the parlor. Tourists love it, and so do the locals. Kids love Blue Moon; I was partial to caramel cribou (vanilla ice cream swirled with caramel & chocolate covered caramel pieces). After sampling many flavors, I sat down for the Original Pig's Dinner (vanilla, chocolate, strawberry and orange pineapple ice creams served on a banana in a pig's trough, with pineapple, wild cherry, strawberry and chocolate toppings). Oh, and you get this year's collector pig pin. Great, energetic staff. Open daily.

Annoying ads. Poor quality pictures. Small print. My rank: 3 of 5.

I know we had a big discussion about the best places to get pasties, so i thought this article about the best places to get ice cream in Michigan would be of interest, too. (And, yes, I've always loved House of Flavors...)

I have a new favorite ice cream in Michigan and it's "Moomers", made in Traverse City. In Gaylord, you can get this at Alpine Chocolate Haus. Wonderful place with homemade candy and caramel corn to go along with the ice cream.
